

It has come to our attention that you are one of the unfortunate workers without Union representation in your workplace. I would like to offer you the unique opportunity to increase the quality of life for you, your co-workers and family. AFSCME assists workers all over the world reach agreements between themselves and their bosses that elevates the standard of living for them and their families.

To begin this process I only need you to call me at (609) 888-5500 or e-mail me john@afscmenjlegco1.org. I need to know some simple things about your workplace. We will then move to work with you and your co-workers to achieve a fair and equitable contract to move you and your family to a higher standard of living. So please call John Rice at (609) 888-5500.

I look forward to working with you!!!

John

Union = a Voice in the workplace